Natalia's calm approach and detailed preparation make her very popular with solicitors representing disadvantaged clients.

Private Law

Natalia's practice covers all aspects of private law children work, including the following:

- Applications for Child Arrangement Orders
- Prohibited Steps and Specific Issue Applications
- Parental Responsibility Applications
- Schedule 1 Children Act Applications
- Cases where the children are separately represented
- Removal from the jurisdiction
- Cases involving applications to the International Child Abduction Unit for return of children from outside the jurisdiction.
- Cases with a "foreign element".

In both public and private law, she has extensive experience of dealing with cases involving the following:

- Allegations of physical, sexual and emotional abuse
- Allegations of domestic violence
- Complicated findings of fact hearings with multiple potential perpetrators
- One or more party with mental health issues
- One or more party with drug and alcohol abuse issues
- Parties who are from outside of the jurisdiction
- Parties who do not have English as a first language and require an interpreter.

Ancillary Relief

In addition to children work, represents clients in mainly small and medium-sized money cases, covering all stages of the ancillary relief proceedings, from first appointment through to final hearing, including interim applications for financial provision.
